

November 2011
CONFIDENTIAL

Proposed revisions to draft C-11 legislation (in order of importance)

Information Location Tools

Section 41.27(2)(d):

(d) complies with any conditions that are industry standard among providers of information location tools relating to the making or caching, or doing of any act similar to caching, of reproductions of the work or other subject-matter, or to the communication of the reproductions to the public by telecommunication, that were set established by whoever made the work or other subject-matter available through the Internet or another digital network and that lend themselves to automated reading and execution; and

Hosting

Section 31.1(5):

Subject to subsection (6), a person who, for the purpose of allowing the telecommunication of a work or other subject-matter through the Internet or another digital network, provides digital memory in which another person stores the work or other subject-matter does not, by virtue of that those acts alone, infringe any right under this Act. ~~copyright in the work or other subject-matter~~

Caching

Section 31.1(4)(b)

(b) ensures that any industry standard directions related to its caching or the doing of any similar act, as the case may be, that are set established by whoever made it available for telecommunication through the Internet or another digital network, and that lend themselves to automated reading and execution, are read and executed; and

Inducers

Section 27(2.3):

It is an infringement of copyright for a person to provide, by means of the Internet or another digital network, a service that the person ~~knows or should have known~~ is designed primarily to enable acts of infringement of copyright if an actual infringement of copyright occurs by means of the Internet or another digital network as a result of the use of that service.

Remedies Against Information Location Tools

Section 41.27(1):

In any proceedings under this Act for infringement of copyright, the owner of the copyright in a work or other subject-matter is not entitled to any remedy other than an injunction against a provider of an information location tool that is found to have infringed copyright by making a reproduction of the work or other subject-matter or by communicating that reproduction to the public by telecommunication, where such injunctions shall be limited to ordering the provider of an information location tool to remove content from its service in response to notices provided under Section 45.25(2).

Hosting Provisions

Section 31.1(6):

(6) Subsection (5) does not apply in respect of a work or other subject-matter if the person providing the digital memory ~~knows~~ is notified by the owner of the work or other subject-matter of (i) a decision of a court of competent jurisdiction to the effect that the person who has stored the work or other subject-matter in the digital memory infringes copyright by making the copy of the work or other subject-matter that is stored or by the way in which he or she uses the work or other subject-matter, and (ii) the electronic location of the work or other subject-matter.

Notice and Notice Remedies

Section 41.26(3):

In any proceedings, whether for infringement of copyright or otherwise, a claimant's only remedy against a person who fails to perform his or her obligations under subsection (1) is single, one-time statutory damages award in an amount that the court considers just, but not less than $5000 and not more than $10,000.