

I am very much opposed to this Bill as I believe that life must end in due time on its own. The Supreme Court was wrong in its decision to say death can be requested and administered by a physician.

Suppose a parent or any relative, for that matter, were to tell a family member that he/she wants to die but they want them to do the killing? That would be murder; wouldn't it? But tell the doctors to do the dirty work and the Bill says its alright.
