

For your consideration in advance of the 2020 federal budget:

It's time to properly tax corporations.

They have been underpaying for decades now and it needs to stop.

I know the dotard to the south of us has slashed corporate taxes and you are worried about corporations packing up and leaving Canada unless you follow suit.

First, following what the Cheeto in Chief does isn't a solid strategy.

Second, call the corporations bluff.

Also, make it clear that their goods and/or services will not be sold in Canada unless they decide to be good corporate citizens.
