NEWS RELEASE

The House of Commons Administration Recognized as One of the National Capital Region's Top Employers for 2019

January 30, 2019 – Ottawa, Ontario

The Honourable Geoff Regan, Speaker of the House of Commons, is pleased to announce that the House of Commons Administration has been selected as one of the National Capital Region's Top Employers for 2019. It is the third year in a row that the Administration has received this honour. The full list of recipients, including a summary of the reasons for selection, is released today in a special magazine published by the Ottawa Citizen.

Awarded by Mediacorp Canada, the country's largest publisher of employment periodicals, following the same criteria as the national competition, this designation recognizes employers in the Ottawa–Gatineau metropolitan area that lead their industries in offering exceptional workplaces.

Quotes

"Being recognized as one of the top employers for the National Capital Region for the third consecutive year is truly an honour. The House of Commons Administration is proud to be a workplace that preserves the collective memory of the House of Commons and its traditions while facilitating its evolution to keep pace with Canadian society. Our employees have the unique opportunity to work in the nation's capital, but also at the heart of Canadian democracy, and we strive to make this experience as professionally fulfilling as possible."

– Hon. Geoff Regan

"The House Administration is a stimulating environment that offers numerous career advancement possibilities in every field of work. Our focus is to enable all employees to achieve their full potential by ensuring that many interesting learning opportunities are available. We are proud to have been recognized again this year as one of the National Capital Region's top employers, and this is a recognition we work hard to live up to."

– Charles Robert, Clerk of the House of Commons

Quick Facts

- First published in 2006, the National Capital Region's Top Employers is an annual editorial competition organized by Mediacorp Canada, the country's largest publisher of employment periodicals.
- The National Capital Region's Top Employers award recognizes employers with the most progressive and forward-thinking programs in their industries.
- Employers are evaluated according to eight criteria: physical workplace; work atmosphere and communications; financial benefits and compensation; health and family-friendly benefits; vacation and personal time off; employee engagement and performance; training and skills development; and community involvement.
- For 2019, the House Administration has also been selected as one of Canada's Top 100 Employers as well as one of Canada's Top Employers for Young People.
